whites & neutrals

white + texture

colour tip

Warm whites create a welcoming atmosphere and are great for areas that don't receive a lot of natural light

Natural textures like sandstone, concrete and wood can be overlayed with chunky knits and woven rugs.

If the permanent fixtures and materials in your room carry warmth in them, use a white with a warm undertone to tie all the elements together. Keeping your wall colour in the same undertone as the other elements in your room allows you to work with the texture, rather than more colour. Natural textures like sandstone, concrete and wood can be overlayed with chunky knits and woven rugs.

white + black

style tip

The maximum contrast of white and black bring energy to a space. Using mainly white with a hint of black will create a fresh and modern look. Adding more black to the scheme will create energy.

Wattyl
White

Fresh and clean, cool whites are great for spaces that receive a lot of sun. Check the undertone of the whites against the other colours in your room to ensure you choose a white with the right amount of grey, blue or green. Be mindful that a lot of cool white can make a space feel clinical so style with bold pattern and texture.

white + pastel

colour tip

Light, dusty hues are soft and soothing. Keeping your colour scheme in similar, light tones will create a sense of serenity

Soft, muted tones and pastels create such a restful feeling. A dusky white will integrate well into your pastel palette.

Use white as a backdrop to showcase bright pops of colour any way you like. Colour brings vitality to a space but by adding it as soft furnishings, it allows you to express yourself and change the style without repainting. Crisp, white walls are the perfect way to balance smaller amounts of bright colours.
